GUANGHUA CHINESE SCHOOL

The Guanghai Chinese School, which operates at Montgomery County Community College (340 DeKalb Pike, Blue Bell, PA, 19422), promotes Chinese culture and encourages cultural exchange among people of Chinese descent and their neighboring communities.

Guanghai has a well-qualified, organized, and enthusiastic staff of 39 teachers. With over 400 students ranging in age from 5-16, and 17 class groups from pre-K to 10th grade, the school also conducts several bilingual classes in Mandarin and English. Classes are offered on Sunday afternoons and use simplified characters as the basis for language instruction. Guanghai also offers a variety of cultural and athletic classes that reflect the interests of students and their families, including: Chinese painting, sketching, stage arts, aerobics, martial arts, basketball, badminton, and go.

The Guanghai Chinese School rents a dance studio and gymnasium at Montgomery County Community College for adult recreational enrichment. While their children are attending classes, parents can participate in athletic and cultural activities such as basketball, badminton, tennis, volleyball, and choral singing. In addition, the school sponsors social celebrations, games, and dancing during Chinese holidays in order to deepen students' understanding and appreciation of Chinese culture.
